

VGSOM Organizes Seminar for school children on MBA education

Vinod Gupta School of Management, IIT Kharagpur recently organized a seminar for Class 11th and 12th students of St Agnes School, Kharagpur on the role of an MBA education in personality development and career growth as well as the life-long learning associated with it.

The session was flagged off by Prof. Sujoy Bhattacharya who spoke fervently in favour of empowering young girls to pursue their ambitions and make best use of the opportunities available to them today. The management students of the b-school explained the relevance of an MBA education in a professional's career. Vivek Jhunhunwala, a first year student of the school, shared with the school children how the practical exposure of MBA education had transformed his stage fright and enabled him to become a confident public speaker.

By sharing the dismal percentage of the number of employable MBA graduates in India, which is 7% in about 5.2 lakh students MBA graduates in a year, they stressed the importance of preparing early and determinedly to crack management aptitude exams and get ahead of the growing competition.

The session was concluded by Prof. Parama Barai who spoke to the students about the importance of holistic development of students while pursuing education. She emphasized on the importance of a diverse peer network and encouraged girl students to work hard in pursuing their dreams so that India sees a surge in women leaders in the coming years.
